$20.00 Savings Account Offered

By the Winnsboro Bank. One, Two, Three! And on the Home Run For this Week's Special.

C. M. CHANDLER GIVES $5 PRIZE

All that the contestants have to do now is just to hustle a little and the prizes will simply pour in. Each week the business firms here get more and more interested, and make still better offers. The Winnsboro Bank, the strongest financial institution in Fairfield county, has come forward with $20.00 in cash as their share of the prizes to be awarded the contestants, who are striving so hard to make their county paper a larger and better one. With its capital of $100,000 and its surplus of $90,000, this bank is capable of handling a larger and increasing volume of business. They will give their prize to the lady handing in the most subscriptions from today until May 27th. So all money handed in today will count on the $20.00 and the hammock also.

Tonight goes the nice substantial gift from Ernest Gladden's up-to-date furniture store. Mr. Gladden carries only the elite furniture of the day and can please the eye of any purchaser.

Mr. C. M. Chandler who is known all over the country for his excellent jewelry and other goods has kindly made an exceptional offer to the contestants. The one polling the most votes next week will have her choice of either a $5.00 gold locket or a $5.00 bracelet.

HOW VOTES ARE OBTAINED.

The first nomination coupon sent in for each contestant entitles her or him to 1,000 votes free. Besides these complimentary votes there will be a Free Voting Ballot in each issue of this paper. As many ballots will be accepted as can be collected for any contestant.

But the easiest and most important way to get votes is through getting subscribers to The News and Herald. Every subscription for three months or longer will entitle the contestant to the number of votes indicated in the scale of votes.

By getting out and securing subscriptions you will get these votes for yourself and thus be pulling yourself in reach of the piano, or one of the other prizes. Votes will be given for getting new subscriptions, renewals, and collecting back debts. So you have a big opportunity to secure votes.

It costs nothing to enter so send in your name at once.

FAVORS DIVIDING THE DIOCESE

Episcopal Council Favors Idea When $40,000 is Raised.

Yorkville, May 3.—That this council considers the division of the diocese desirable when $40,000 is added to the present bishop's permanent fund," is the wording of a resolution adopted by the Episcopal diocesan council here today. This with the adoption of a resolution providing for a special committee to look into the advisability of electing a negro suffragan bishop of the diocese were the chief matters of interest disposed of by the council today.

Bishop Guerry submitted his annual report this morning, and in it he explained his position on the division of the diocese. He stated that he did not mean by his open letter issued last June to stop the special committee in its work to raise an endowment for the episcopate. What he said had reference to the notice served on the diocese that the matter of division would come up again at the Yorkville meeting.

In the letter he expressed himself as believing that the continued agitation of a division of the diocese was setting back the work of the church and preventing co-operation on matters of great importance which concerned the welfare of the diocese as a whole. He opposed a discussion of the division in advance of an increase of endowment with which to provide money to finance the addition of diocese. When a division is made feasible by increased endowment, and when it is clearly the wish of a majority of the laymen of the diocese to divide. Bishop Guerry says he will not oppose the divisions.

The special committee which was empowered to raise the endowment of about $40,000 for the division reported this morning that they considered it useless to attempt to raise funds after Bishop Guerry had issued his open letter in June, therefore the committee had not acted. The committee, however, met and formulated a report which was submitted to the council today, in which it was stated that it was their belief that the endowment could be raised and recommended that the council appoint a committee of three with full power to carry into execution the issuing of coupon bonds in several denominations, maturing in ten years. This recommendation was adopted and then this council went on record as thinking a division of the diocese desirable when the endowment of $40,000 is raised.

Sad Death of Little Child.

Mr. John Varnadore, who lives at the old Newton Gaston place twelve miles from Chester, lost his youngest child, a boy between six and seven months old, under particularly sad and distressing circumstances last Thursday afternoon. The child had been taken out into the yard in its carriage by the other children for a ride, and had been left there by its brothers and sisters, who had become absorbed in their games and gone back to the house. When Mr. Varnadore came in and inquired about the baby they were playing in the house, and it was only after a moment or two that one of the little girls remembered that the child had been left in the yard. When the father drew near the carriage he was horrified to find the child's head over the strap that held it in the seat and life extinct. It had endeavored to change its position in the carriage, and in some way its head had caught over the strap and it had been strangled.

Mr. Varnadore lost his wife only a few days ago, and this second bereavement under such deplorable circumstances is doubly sad.—Chester Reporter.

COMPROMISE IN RICE WILL CASE.

Half Million Dollar Estate Settled by Agreement.

The famous Rice will case was called Tuesday morning by his Honor R. C. Watts, presiding judge, at this term of court, and was settled by an agreement between all of the parties interested, that afternoon at 4 o'clock, when Col. R. W. Shand announced to the court that an agreement had been perfected, he requesting the court to leave the case open until the order could be drawn up and signed by the heirs. The estate is one of the largest ever owned by anyone in this county, being worth between five and six hundred thousand dollars.

The settlement was based upon an agreement by Mrs. Evelyn Rice, wife of Mr. S. M. Rice, E. U. of this city, and Mrs. Agnes Coleman Jeter, wife of Dr. R. R. Jeter, of Whitmire, to receive a fixed proportion, the other legatees agreeing to the settlement. The attorneys of both sides of the case were in consultation with their clients all of Tuesday morning and it was noised around that an agreement was being made, and when court convened Tuesday afternoon there was quite a crowd of spectators to hear the decision in the case.

The order was signed Thursday morning. It is understood that Mesdames Evelyn Rice and Agnes Coleman Jeter will receive $75,000 each, while other cousins and heirs will receive $12,000 each with the exception of Mrs. V. S. Coleman, of Whitmire, the only living next to kin in the State, who will receive an amount equal to that of Mrs. Rice and Mrs. Jeter.

The compromise thus agreed upon by all parties concerned is news that will be gratifying to their friends throughout the State. Under the compromise it is understood that Mrs. Rice, Mrs. Coleman and Mrs. Jeter will each receive one-seventh of the estate; under the original will and codicil they would each have received one-fifth of the estate. The estate is valued at half a million, and consists chiefly of about 15,000 acres of land in Union, Laurens, Newberry, Cherokee and Chester counties and stock in the Glenn Lowery Manufacturing company, at Whitmire.—Union Times.

A Bright Girl Passes Away.

On Friday night April 28th, as the clock was striking ten Ethel McGarity fell on sleep. She had been sick for about three weeks. From the beginning of her illness she was critically ill and death was not altogether unexpected. Her body was interred on Saturday afternoon at five o'clock in the Presbyterian cemetery.

Ethel was the second daughter of Mrs. L. J. McGarity. She was a bright attractive girl of 12. She was in the 4th grade at school and always stood at or near the head of her class. Her lovable disposition endeared her to all her friends, school mates and teachers, the kindness to the girls younger than herself won for her the love and esteem of the girls in the lower grades. As a pupil she was obedient to all the rules of the school. She was a regular attendant upon the Presbyterian Sunday School and always took a great interest in the school.

She is survived by her mother and three sisters, Marie, Jessie May, and Agnes. The loving sympathy of the whole community goes out to these in their bereavement.

In speaking of Ethel one of her teachers said: "She was a good girl and young as she was she had an influence for good. We shall miss her."

Col. Crittenden Suicides.

The city of Greenville was shocked on Wednesday to learn that Col. Stanley S. Crittenden had shot himself through the head at eight o'clock that morning, dying instantly. Col. Crittenden was a native of Greenville and was a highly esteemed citizen, a survivor of the Confederate army. Despondency, following the recent death of his wife, is thought to have been the cause.

GARDEN AND FIELD NOTES.

What and When to Plant. Successive Planting Necessary for Continuous Crops.

At least three parties within the past few weeks have told us that they plant their terraces in sunflowers, which prove a decided ornament and make an abundant yield of the very finest poultry feed. The value of the sunflower is very much more appreciated out west than here, as there it is a crop of importance. The example of the farmers referred to above might be followed by all a considerable profit.

The question of what to do in regard to replanting, where one has failed to get a stand, is one that in a large majority of instances can be answered by saying that where there is only a partial stand about the best thing to do is to plant over. Especially is this true of corn and practically all other field crops except cotton, which is a wonderfully resourceful crop and which frequently makes a very fine yield with only a partial stand. Replanting corn is about as unsatisfactory piece of work as one ever gets at.

This is about the season, when most farmers plant their branch bottoms and other bottom corn, which usually does better when planted not too early. These bottom lands are very valuable, when they hit all right.

The soja bean is a crop the value of which the farmers of this section need to learn more about. There is not near so much in the rabbit scare as some seem to think. The little damage the rabbits will do will be of little consequence in a large field. Whenever tried this bean is very popular and all should get acquainted with it.

If it should rain in the next few days, which was sincerely hoped, there should follow a considerable amount of planting in the garden. Where the second planting of beans and of corn has not been made, this will be a fine time for it. There should also be another planting of tomato and cabbage seed for the late summer. The planting of these should be now as soon as the ground is in a satisfactory condition. Another planting of watermelons and cantaloupes is also desirable. In fact, the only way to have a succession of any crop is by frequent plantings.

Speaking of the planting of

CORNERSTONE OF CAPERS CHAPEL

The Memorial Services at Yorkville Were Well Attended.

Yorkville, May 2.—Fully seven hundred persons were present at the Church Home Orphanage this afternoon to witness the laying of the corner stone for the Ellison Capers Memorial hall. This hall will cost about $10,000 raised by public subscriptions and will be in the nature of a double cottage which will accommodate 32 children of the orphanage.

The stone was placed and blessed by Bishop Guerry, who reviewed briefly the life of Bishop Capers as a soldier and citizen, as a priest and bishop and as a servant of God. J. Steele Brice made a short talk in behalf of the people of York county, stating that they deemed it a high honor to have a memorial hall of so great a man. He knows of no man, living or dead, more beloved than Ellison Capers, he said. In the soldier-bishop were exemplified the highest ideals of man," said Mr. Brice. He pledged the support of the York county people to the orphanage.

Following Mr. Brice came Rev. John Kershaw, D. D., who was the speaker of the occasion. Dr. Kershaw's address was a complete review of Bishop Capers' life from the time of his birth to the day of his death.

"As a citizen," said Dr. Kershaw, "as soldier, as educator, as public official, as bishop, he met the expectations and justified the confidence of his people, who corn, especially in the garden, we would again call attention to the great value of such corns as Country Gentleman and Stowell's Evergreen, which for table are par excellence. They are for this purpose so far superior to any of the ordinary field corns as not to be in the same class at all.

What about trying some Mangul Wurzel beets and carrots for your stock? If otheas have found them so advantageous, why not give them a trial? Certainly the proposition of producing milk and butter at less cost and the reducing the cost of your own raised meat to you are problems that are worth while. That is what these crops make possible. So get busy and try them.

It is to be taken for granted, of course, that you have planted a liberal quantity of sorghum. If not this is a splendid time for getting at it. In fact, this is the most favorable season of the whole year for the planting of this, the greatest of all the forage crops. There is no danger of you planting too much of it. At least, that is what those who have given it the fullest trial say. Of course, there are a few who still stay shy of this valuable crop because it kills their stock, as they think, but then their number is growing much less.

Several farmers have spoken to us lately about their planting out potatoes and pinders for their hogs. This is a splendid way to raise meat at the very lowest cost and to keep the corn in the crib for the horses. This section will never do very much in the matter of raising their own meat till they learn the value of beets, carrots, pinders, potatoes, turnips, etc. When meat has to be raised and when it comes mighty high, even when the corn can be raised here at home.

The one thought for everyone to keep in mind, so far as the garden is concerned, is that it is much easier to cultivate it and keep it fully planted in a succession of vegetables than to let any part of it go to weeds and grass. The getting rid of these is the most expensive work ever to be done in the garden, expensive not only in actual cost, but also in the further cost of taking off of the ground so much of plant food.

delighted to do him honor as they followed his progress with sympathetic admiration, bidding him to one high place after another until at the last as leader of his church's hosts in South Carolina, they crowned his career of honorable service with more exalted testimonial of trust and have in their powers to offer."

Do Ghosts Hunt Swamps?

No. Never. Its foolish to fear a fancied evil, when there are real and deadly perils to guard against in swamps and marshes, bayous, and lowlands. These are the malaria germs that cause ague, chills and fever, weakness, aches in the bones and muscles and may induce deadly typhoid. But Electric Bitters destroys and casts out these vicious germs from the blood. "Three bottles drove all the malaria from my system," wrote Wm. Fretwell, of Lucama, N. C., "and I've had fine health ever since." Use this safe, sure remedy only. 50c at Jno. H. McMaster & Co.

Mules and Negroes.

Tribune Farmer. The mule is the farm work animal of the South, and no white man can get along with the mule as the negro can. They go together, and both are needed on the Southern farms.

LOST—One Hartford bicycle. When last seen was before The Winnsboro Bank. Any information will be appreciated by J. Bratton Davis.
